Lake Anna Resort Submits Rezone Plan to Louisa County

The eagerly awaited Lake Anna Resort has completed the submission package for the Planned Unit Development rezone, the next step in the process of bringing The Resort to life. "This is a milestone in any development process and we are excited about getting this stringent process completed," said Resort developer Ed Blount. Designs have been rendered and will include public facilities for lake enthusiasts to enjoy.

The Resort will bring visitors and vacationers that Lake Anna hasn't been able to fully accommodate before. Facilities will include luxury residential condominium units, a resort hotel, an eclectic shopping selection, beaches, boat slips, gaming courts, walking paths and botanical gardens, all included in the submission.

The developers and Louisa County have been working together on streamlining this process and making sure The Resort will be a shining star within the county and surrounding area. There will be an

ABC Supply Donates Lumber for Lake Anna Visitor Center

The Lake Anna Visitor Center has been making improvements for the busy spring season on the way and in need of a replacement deck, the center contacted Managing Partner Tim Diehr of ABC Supply in Fredericksburg. Tim Diehr recognized the importance of the Lake Anna Visitor Center and wanted to support the service they provide to the community and help keep their facility up to date. "It was a very generous contribution," said Lake Anna Visitor Center director Jennifer Armstrong. "ABC Supply really stepped up to the plate and helped create a beautiful and accessible entrance for the Visitor Center that helps us continue to offer information on the local area and welcome visitors to Lake Anna."

LETTERS to the Editor

To the editor:

I have heard that there is a Dollar General being built at Lake Anna. My wife and I have asked around and wanted to know if the rumors were true?

Yes we have confirmed that there are plans for a Dollar General to be built near the intersection of Routes 652 and 208, near the New Bridge Landing shopping center that houses Food Lion, Subway, and more. Some in the community are saying that a Dollar General isn't needed at the lake with other locations in a close proximity (there are Dollar General stores in both Mineral and Louisa) while others welcome the added convenience and product selection even closer to the lake.

We'd like to hear what you think. Are you happy about the Dollar General moving into Lake Anna? If you could choose any new business to open at the lake, what would it be?

Feel free to email info@lakeannainfo.net or mail your letters to the editor to Lake Anna Breeze, 208 Lake Front Drive, Mineral, VA 23117. You can also friend the Lake Anna Breeze on Facebook and add your comments there.

Lake Anna Chamber of Commerce Picks Up Steam

We recently caught up with the Lake Anna Chamber of Commerce to see what was going on in their organization. Over the last year, the Chamber added many new members and accomplished many of their set goals, including:

- DEQ had issued permit approvals on Dominion Power and Lake Anna Plaza's sewer systems that were opposed by certain members of the Louisa County Board of Supervisors. After the Chamber lobbied to Virginia State Water Board, the permits were upheld in a 7-0 vote.
- The LACC sponsored a political debate for the Mineral District Supervisor Position.
- The Chamber holds a monthly breakfast at the Lake Anna Winery allowing for business sponsors to present to both members and non-members.
- With the help of Chamber member Lake Anna Yacht Club and John Carroll, Lake Anna was promoted heavily through the Fox 35 Richmond Television news network.
- The Lake Anna Open Golf Tournament brought in 15 teams to participate again this year.
- Helped to promote the Lake Anna Wine Festival, the area's largest event.
- Referred local area businesses and promoted the growth of Lake Anna local businesses.

Looking forward to 2014, their most important goals are:

- Work with local officials and businesses to bring emergency care and a hotel to the area.
- Continue to promote responsible growth and infrastructure.
- Increase the LACC membership.
- Work toward an environment that compliments businesses and residential use at Lake Anna.
- Make Lake Anna a destination for all of Virginia.

There is a special offer to join before March 31st and save 50% off of your membership fee for 2014. For more information, please visit lakeannachamber.org.

Meet New Louisa County Board of Supervisors Member: Stephanie Koren

The Lake Anna Breeze recently sat down with newly elected Louisa County Board of Supervisors member Stephanie Koren to discuss how things are going in Louisa County, the Mineral district and her new position.

So is it different than you expected?

"No, not really, it's actually interesting because I have always wanted to understand both sides. I do a lot of research and make the best possible decision for everyone. It's been important to me to learn the issues and public engagement is good."

What do you see as the most important issues for your district and what are your main goals?

"One of my main goals is to bring high speed broadband internet to Louisa. We will never have good economic development without the proper infrastructure. Although the schools have broadband, a large percentage of the students have no access at home. This limits them from getting the most out of the excellent education offered by the Louisa County schools. Much of the work place has transitioned over the last several years to allow home based workers, but this is virtually impossible without highspeed access.

Our education, law enforcement, and fire/EMS also remain my highest priorities. Recently, I rode along with Mineral Medic 2 and the Mineral Fire Department to learn how important their jobs are and was very impressed by their dedication and motivation. The combo of volunteer and paid individuals make 24 hour service available to the entire county."

You've hit the ground running. Are you on any boards or committees yet?

"Yes, I am on the Economic Development Committee, Human Services Advisory Board, Interagency Council, Resource Council, Water/Sewer Strategic Planning Committee, Liaison to the Town of Mineral, and Liaison to the Louisa Arts Center. Virginia Association of Counties has also appointed me to their Health and Human Resources Committee, assisting colleagues throughout the Commonwealth.

By learning about our County services, I also visited with JABA (Jefferson Area Board of Aging). They are trying to reach out to get the community to have a better understanding of what they do by offering a lot of services for seniors and their families that promote healthy aging in Central Virginia.

I have attended meetings with Louisa County Chamber of Commerce, the Lake Anna Chamber of Commerce, Louisa County School Board and plan on attending many more."

Do you have a question for Board Member Stephanie Koren? You are encouraged to contact her at 540-894-6607 or email to LCBS_MD@louisa.org. You can also find her on Facebook by searching for 'Steph for Mineral'.

The Lore of the Lake by Wayman Bishop

7W4 - Lake Anna International Airport

When I was a young boy of 8, my mother and I took our first flight together on an Eastern Airlines Super Constellation, from Birmingham, Alabama, to Charlotte, North Carolina. It was a huge, winged beast, with four engines each the size of a Studebaker Sports Coupe, and a "tail" that appeared to be designed more for show than function...but what did I know?

I had no idea what to expect, but I was excited...so excited. The passenger compartment was like the inside of a cigar tube with tiny little seats and windows the size of small dinner plates. As we prepared for take off, the stewardesses--excuse me--flight attendants, announced that they were about to secure the doors and asked everyone to take their seats and fasten their seat belts. It was then that my mother's secret claustrophobia was revealed to the world. "No don't. Please leave the doors open!" she cried out. Even in my aviation ignorance, I was having a hard time figuring out how that was going to work.

The beautiful, skinny young women in tight-fitting uniforms were quick to comfort my mom, insuring her that she was very safe... to which she replied without acknowledging their attention to her fear, "Get me a drink!"

Not until she had been served a sufficient number of small glasses of Eastern's finish Scotch to anesthetize her successive panic attacks, did things inside the cramped space (really tight for such an enormous airplane) return to normal, allowing us to "pull back" from the ramp and "slip the surly bounds of earth."(1)

This was the beginning of my love affair with aviation. In college, I joined Air Force ROTC with a heart to fly anything the Air Force would give me to join in the effort to liberate South Vietnam from the evil designs of Ho Chi Minh. Not to be. When I took my flight physical at Shaw Air Force Base to begin cadet flight training, the flight surgeon told me my heart didn't conduct electricity like it was supposed to and I would never fly in the Air Force. Rats! I immediately resigned from AFROTC because I couldn't stand the thought of standing on the ground looking up to see others "topping the wind-swept heights with easy grace." (1)

Many years later, after I had adopted a more mature attitude about my weird heart (which by the way, didn't stop the Marine Corps from making me an infantry officer) I found myself working in the Pentagon (known to many as the world's largest adult day-care center) for a very important person who had his very own airplane. This was my chance to live vicariously through the experiences of some really crazy flight crews. They indulged my questions from the "jump seat" only because I outranked them. I would ask with an air associated with my position of responsibility, "What does that button do?" "What happens if I pull this lever back?" "Where do you keep the parachutes?"

It's time I remind you that this article is about the Lake Anna Airport. I'm just having fun getting there and taking too much time.

All of this comes back to me, though, every time I pass the international sign for "airport" when I motor up Kentucky Springs Road.

I have visited the Lake Anna Airport several times in an attempt to find someone to interview for this article, but the place appears to be unmanned, yet well-maintained. I have never seen a plane take off or land there...not even Southwest Airlines. Yet AirNav.com has a recent posting dated December 12, 2013, giving pilots all the data they need to do the things they need to do and know about an airport. Makes you think there's more to know than just "Hey look! There's an airport! Let's land there!"

7W4: Lake Anna Airport, Bumpass, Virginia, Runway 8/26, 2558 feet by 50 feet, asphalt, excellent condition...but where's the story?

More about 7W4 in the next "Breeze."

(1) From "High Flight" a poem written by Pilot Officer John Magee, an American serving in the Royal Canadian Air Force, at the age of 19. Three months after he wrote this poem, he was killed in a mid-air collision on December 11, 1941, while piloting a Spitfire V over Tangmere, England. "[In] the high, untraversed sanctity of space, [he] reached out and touched the face of God."

The Beauty Benefits of Coconut Oil by Heather Mechler-Fickes of Chameleon & Co. Salon

I have a friend, who always is making delicious wheat-free, dairy free, and gluten free muffins. She tries out new recipes and new ingredients all the time. I've watched her make her delicious little treats and noticed she usually uses coconut oil. I know a lot of innovative hair products on the market contain coconut oil, as well. The wheels in my head started spinning, and I decided to look into some other beauty benefits and uses for coconut oil.

I first looked into the benefits for hair. On the internet there are tons of ideas. Coconut oil is an awesome moisturizer for hair. I got a jar of coconut oil and tried it out for myself. I coated the ends of my hair and mid-shaft with a generous amount of product, put my hair up in a plastic cap, and let it sit for a few hours. I shampooed and conditioned my hair as usual. When I blow-dried my hair, I noticed a difference. It was easier to style and manageability was better. Plus, my hair was silkier. It can also be used to tame frizz and fly aways. Also, found out that coconut oil can reduce the risk of head lice when rubbed on to the scalp.

I further researched the benefits on coconut oil on the skin. I first used it for removing eye make-up. It did a great job. It works great on skin because many products on the market contain lots of water (which can dry out skin) and/or petroleum (which can smother skin.) In my findings, I found out that you can use it as a facial and body moisturizer, it reduces and softens wrinkles, minimizes the visibility of scars, acts as an antioxidant for repairing cell damage, helps rashes, bug-bites, and even reduces the appearance of bags and dark circles under the eyes. For years, I have suffered with eczema and in my findings I found out that coconut oil is great for that. I used it on the areas that are the worst. I rubbed a small amount on my elbows, knees, and ankles. It soothed the affected area and relieved the itch.

This is just a tidbit of information about of all the benefits of this super oil. It raises body metabolism, acts as an antiviral, antifungal, and antibacterial agent. A little goes a long way. It is also a healthy addition to food recipes too.

Industry Leading Wake Boats Coming to Lake Anna

by contributing writer Kyle Austin

The life, the ride, the experience! Wake Edger's Gear and Gifts brings you the number one selling wake boats in the industry: Malibu and Axis will now be available for purchase at the board shop. With all contests and demo days being pulled with these fantastic wake making boats, you will not miss the Wake Edger's crew on the water this year. If you went to the Fredericksburg Boat Show last month, you may have seen some of the amazing 2014 Malibu and Axis line ups. The all new Axis T22 traditional bow 22 ft boat was a show stopper! With Surf Gate system as an option on 2014 Axis boats, and a long list amenities this boat is sure to be a top seller in 2014 with a price tag that is almost half of the competition. The 2014 Malibu 23LSV, which is new from the ground up, was also at the show in the same color scheme country star Jake Owen owns. The new hull design and increased attention to detail throughout the Malibu 23LSV should help to ensure its legacy as the number one selling 23 ft wake boat.

For those that haven't seen these boats in person yet, they all are available with the patented Surf Gate system. Surf Gate is an actuator driven extending plate that creates one of the best surf waves in the industry... all at the push of a button and without having to lean your boat. Since the boat sits level in the water and Surf Gate does all the work, not only is driver visibility increased, but also improves passenger safety. In addition, Surf Gate allows for a transfer ability that no one else can offer, allowing you to jump from one side of the wave to the other without having to fill any ballast. The picture you see here show you the Surf Gate system. It is a must have option for surfers in 2014!

Outdoor Life at Lake Anna

March Madness!

By Charlie Bowles - Charlie@CVOfishing.com
Fishing Guide, Bass Pro Shops & Lowrance Pro-Staff

It's about more than just college basketball... March marks the end of cold blustery winter weather and the beginning of longer warmer days. For an angler, it means it's time to go fishing! Below is a quick overview of what to expect for March on Lake Anna.

Bass

When the water reaches the magic temperature of 55 degrees Bass will "stage" or move towards the shallower creeks and coves. During this period the Bass will "wake up" and get much more active than they have been in the winter. The lower end of the lake is going to warm before any other area. Dike 3, Valentine Cove, Levy Creek, Rockland Creek, and Dukes Creek will be great areas to concentrate your efforts. Use ½ ounce to ¾ ounce Spinnerbaits, 5" Jerkbait, and ¼ ounce swimjigs and swim-baits. Don't forget your favorite variety of finesse baits when the bite gets a little tougher or you are trying to follow up the other baits. I also like to use lizards and senko type baits on a Carolina rig. This technique allows you to cover a lot of water and detect changes in the bottom.

Striper

Many of the larger Stripers in March will be caught in the main rivers near Terrys run, S-turns, Christopher run, and Duck in hole creek. ¼ ounce to ½ ounce Swimbait and Jerkbait will be very productive in these areas. If you are a live bait fisherman use a shallow presentation during lowlight and overcast days. During bright sunlight go out to deeper feeding flats and use down lines.

Crappie

Watch for Crappie to move towards shallow water... There will be thousands of slabs in shallow brush rocks and docks. Grubs and minnows will load the cooler.

The Calendar is Filling Up...

Get Out and Get Hooked Up!

Crazy Good Eats—Kappa Garden Sushi Bistro

Sushi train, Japanese fast-food, and Kaiten-zushi are all different names used to describe the conveyor belt sushi concept where delicious sushi rolls are prepared and then placed on a conveyor belt as it snakes around the dining room. Kappa Garden Sushi Bistro brings this fun dining experience to Fredericksburg and offers something truly unique for foodies and sushi connoisseurs alike.

Upon sitting down in front of the moving plates, I immediately found myself in a panic as I wanted to pluck every dish that was coming my way. Somehow they were moving too slow and too fast all at the same time. These beautifully arranged sushi rolls were dancing past me and screamed “pick me, pick me”, taunting and teasing my taste buds to come out and play. And play they did!

My hands-down favorite roll was the Fred Vegas. The Fred Vegas is a combination of shrimp tempura, crab, and cream cheese and topped with avocado and spicy crab and I was told it was a favorite among most customers as well. There were so many wonderful flavors, tastes and textures rolled up between that seaweed paper it needed no soy or wasabi (which is unusual for me!). My second favorite roll was the Barbie Roll, which was spicy tuna, spicy crab, jalapeno, and topped with spicy mayo and sriracha and gives off the perfect amount of zing us heat-seekers desire! For those of you who don't like it quite as hot you have to try the Mary Washington Roll which is shrimp tempura, avocado, topped with spicy tuna and a layer of soft and fluffy fried tempura then fried sweet potato strings which gives it that perfect crunch. Delicious!

While there are many items swirling around on that kaleidoscope of temptation just waiting for a buyer, others are made to order. The Spicy Tuna Cocktail is one you can order and it's not only pretty to look at, it is a wonderful starter. The blood-red fresh tuna squares are tossed lightly in a mixture of Sriracha, fish roe, and sesame oil, then piled on top of a little shredded white radish and garnished with lemon and mint. The tuna melts in your mouth like butta', and the amount of spice is spot on. The tiny, soft roe that pops between your teeth is like icing on a cake.

Besides the great sushi, the service is killer! The chefs pride themselves on accommodating any special request you may have and the waiters are very knowledgeable and attentive. Best of all if you're in a hurry you can stop in and pick up a few rolls in just minutes!

For Crazy Good sushi and a wonderful dining experience visit Kappa Garden Sushi Bistro located at 10153 Jefferson Davis Highway in Cosner Corner.

I just got this great idea this morning, that February should be thought of as the resting month. I've never thought of this before. In January, we are tired from the fast pace, whether mental or physical, that November and December impose upon us. Actually, a lot really is self-imposed. In January, a lot of us are still trying to get in the mindset of the changes we see happening for us in the new year. Just thinking about that requires effort. March is going to see us motivated to "be ready" for Spring and all it requires. So, this month, relax and read and dream. Sounds good, doesn't it? An ancient proverb says "a calm and undisturbed mind and heart are the life and health of the body, but envy, jealousy and wrath are like rotteness to the bones."

Remember a couple of years back my writing about the 5 Love Languages by Gary Chapman, and how to apply those wonderful principles to our homes? If you have not read that book, you should! It will affect your relationships everywhere, even your home, not just your chosen mate. Good stuff!

In readying for the upcoming seasons in the interior design world, I

cannot ignore the beauty of diversity in the offerings. God is the Master of "diversity" and when opening our eyes, clearly looking to this, rather than sameness, it seems like an Instagram with filtered views of the everyday. About half my clients have eclectic styles in their homes. Years ago, it was a much lower percentage, but our culture now is so beautifully filled with interesting choices. Besides the influence other cultures have on interior design, the daily visual experience can be a tool for keeping our mind sharp (and who doesn't want that?). I did not realize our 22 moves in the Marine Corps were offering me gradual eye opening experiences to the world we live in. Living in Japan and traveling in Southeast Asia opened a treasure trove of architecture, colors, textures and more. These continuously yielded valuable

"A calm and undisturbed mind and heart are the life and health of the body, but envy, jealousy and wrath are like rotteness to the bones."

and visual memories and I call on these frequently in my work. During that time, I remember thinking once we are back in the United States, the sameness of cultures would prevail. Not so, things were the same as when I left, but my eyes were now open to seeing beyond "what I was seeing". That sounds crazy. It was amazing as if I removed my glasses.

Eclectic homes today have resources readily available in every shopping place. World Market and Pier One were pioneer sources for me early on as a decorator. Another benefit to the freedom of this decorating style, is quality and price are not prerequisites for purchase. Do you just love it? Does it speak to your soul? You don't have to know where it is going. It will find its landing place, again and again. Plus, there is not the perceived pressure associated with decorating.. Your house reflects you and your family's personality, not what the magazines might say "should" be in your home. One of my favorite designers is Vincent Wolf. Vincent was born and raised in Cuba. He put into play an early education of "seeing" as he took advantage of taking in his surroundings as his "teachers" in his youth. He is a renown interior designer. I don't know him personally, but am drawn to him in his writings in his book, Learning to See. He has many honors to his credit. For instance, "House Beautiful" chose him as one of the ten most influential designers in the United States. Great style cannot be purchased, it comes from within.

Rest, Read and Dream. Find your place of "calm in the hectic". Until next time, BB
